EXCITING TIMES AT LODGE HILL!

We are officially launching our fundraising campaign to raise money for our Vision Project!

Over the last few years, we have found ourselves increasingly unable to meet all the demand for Lodge Hill bookings due to our limited facilities that are now in dire need of expansion and refurbishment.

We are planning to-

- Extend our residential capacity in the main house to a total of 100 (Currently 78)
- Add a disability suite with carer facilities to our ground floor main house
- Refurbish and extend our kitchens
- Extend our dining room in the main house to seat a minimum of 100 people with a sympathetic orangery structure that leads to an outdoor seating area
- Extend our current library social space with a sympathetic orangery structure
- Add an activity assembly platform overlooking the South Downs which will also allow us to offer educational activities in geography, astronomy and wildlife awareness

We need to raise £770,000 to be able to complete these works.

Please help us if you possibly can by donating to this exciting project! We plan to recognise every donor/donation in a thank you book once we reach our target.

CHRISTMAS PUDDING CONCERT

The Christmas Pudding Concert took place on Friday 8th December, at Lodge Hill. Tim Wonnacott and Mark Spofforth OBE read a mixture of Christmas readings from John Betjeman, to Benjamin Zephaniah. Celebrated violinist Andrew Bernardi and his String Academy performed beautiful music along with The Greenway Academy choir, conducted by Fiona Chilcott, who sang Christmas songs and accompanied the audience together in singing carols. The evening was to help raise funds for a group of young people with Asperger's, to go on an expedition to Wales. It will be a life changing experience and a huge achievement for these young people, who so often by nature of their disability are unable to participate in generic events like this.

Ticket sales, donations and the raffle all helped to raise £1,500 for this project.
